Welcome

Prelude Hallelujah (instrumental)

John Keating

Opening Reading #428

Come out of the dark earth, here where the minerals Glow in their stone cells deeper than seed or birth. Come into the pure air, above all heaviness Of storm or cloud to this light-possessed atmosphere. Come into, out of, under the earth, the wave, the air.

Love, touch us everywhere with primeval candor.

May Sarton

Hymn #131 Love will Guide Us (in Singing the Living Tradition)

Chalice Lighting

May this flame go up and remind us that our faith is good: Every one of us can bring love to the world.

May this chalice burn with clear flame as a symbol of our path: Every one of us can have joy, peace and harmony in our hearts.

May through this flame the wisdom of ages speak to us and stav in us:

Every one of us can be a blessing to the world. —Petr Samojsky

submitted by the Religious Society of Czech Unitarians to the ICUU Global Chalice Lighting Program

Benediction

Wisdom, be thou more precious than possessions without end.

Truth, be thou more sacred than the pleasing of a friend.

Courage, be thou our strength to gain the distant goal.

Beauty, send thou a cleansing wonder to our souls.

Kindness, be thou our guide upon life's way.

Peace, be thou the benediction of our day. Amen.

Night on the Island

All night I have slept with you next to the sea, on the island. Wild and sweet you were between pleasure and sleep, between fire and water.

Perhaps very late our dreams joined at the top or at the bottom, up above like branches moved by a common wind, down below like red roots that touch.

Perhaps your dream drifted from mine and through the dark sea was seeking me as before, when you did not exist, when without sighting you I sailed by your side, and your eyes sought what now—bread, wine, love, and anger—I heap upon you because you are the cup that was waiting for the gifts of my life.

I have slept with you all night long while the dark earth spins with the living and the dead and on waking suddenly in the midst of the shadow my arm encircled your waist. Neither night nor sleep could separate us.

I have slept with you and on waking, your mouth, come from your dream, gave me the taste of earth, of sea water, of seaweed, of the depths of your life, and I received your kiss moistened by the dawn as if it came to me from the sea that surrounds us.

~~Pablo Neruda
